25th Sunday IN ORDINARY TIME

“Whoever receives one child
such as this in my name, receives me.” - Mk 9:37a

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

Have you known that person? The one who leaves every person they encounter feeling a little more blessed for having met them? They're the friend you can count on when nothing is going well. They're the one who's always "doing" for others. They're never gossiping or sniping or complaining. We wonder how they do it, how they have it in them. We're a little envious, even if we don't let ourselves acknowledge it.

That, folks, is what the view is like from the front of the line, gazing at those suckers in the way back and wondering why they're smiling so much. We've all been at the front of a line and felt no shame about it. We show up early, we put in the time and the legwork, and we "earn" whatever it is we came for — sports tickets, the latest Apple product, whatever. That's how it works here on Earth, where the fastest win the race, the fittest survive and the first shall be first, always.

It's exactly why stewardship is such a tall order. Stewardship calls us to play by the rules of another kingdom — one where the richest have the least amount in their bank accounts and the happiest don't seem to have anything to show for it, at least materially.

If you have a person in your life who always seems happy "doing" for others, it's because by a boatload of God's grace, they play by the rules of the other place.

Watch and take notes — and don't be afraid to join them at the back of the line. Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS

From Father Matt Flatley

In accordance with the Diocesan Pastoral Plan, our diocese is placing a renewed emphasis on the need for all Catholics to live as active stewards and disciples who receive the gifts of God gratefully in their lives, cultivate them responsibly, and then share them out of love with God and others. Living a life of active stewardship begins in the family, supports, and builds up our parish communities, and flows out into the world.

Recently, Bishop McKnight and Father Stephen Jones, diocesan director of stewardship, filmed a short video describing how families with students enrolled in our parish schools are called to practice active stewardship in their local community. School families, partnering with the parish to raise their children in the Catholic faith, are expected to live as active stewards who:

- Pray: Attend Mass faithfully in the parish on weekends and holy days.
- Participate: Use their time and talent to strengthen the parish community.
- Sacrificially Give: Pledge and remain current on a tithe of financial first fruits to support the ministries of the parish. The goal is eight percent to the parish and two percent to other worthy charities.

This video is currently being used by parishes in the first and second cohort of communities transitioning to the stewardship model over this year. These cohorts include 32 parishes and 18 schools. The remainder of parishes in our diocese will begin the process of transitioning to this model in July 2023.

Any parish not formally enrolled in the first or second cohort can already begin actively forming parishioners in the spirituality of stewardship and the expectations which come with living a life as active stewards. Go online to our website sjpalmyra.diojeffcity.org for more resources and information. Pax Christi, Fr. Matt

This month's Palmyra food pantry needs are bar soap, shampoo and conditioner. A basket for these items are located in the vestibule of the church. Thanks for your continued support to the Palmyra food pantry.
